

Week January 13th to 17th

Activities and Homework

HOMework

- Monday, January 13th, 2025.

Spelling

Choose 5 words from your vocabulary 4, find the definition in the dictionary and make a drawing of each word you chose.

- Tuesday, January 14th, 2025.

Use of English

Write three things you have never done.

- Wednesday, January 15th, 2025.

Science.

Make a drawing of each kingdom:

- Thursday, January 16th, 2025.

Reading .

Write and draw your favorite part of the story “The Story of Chocolate”.

- Friday, January 17th, 2025.

No homework

Date:

Key Num

Topic:

Homework

Date: Monday, January 13th, 2025.

Key Num

Topic: Homework

Choose 5 words from your vocabulary 4, find the definition in the dictionary and make a drawing of each word you chose.

1.

2.

3.

4.

5.

USE OF ENGLISH

Date: Tuesday, January 14th, 2025	Key Num
Topic: HOMEWORK

Write the time expressions in the table.
Use a ruler to draw it.

January	250 years	the 15th century
ten minutes	yesterday	a week
11 o'clock	three days	six months	2008

For	Since

Date: Wednesday, January 17th, 2025.

Key Num

Topic: Homework

Use your ideas to draw a food chain. Label it with producer, primary consumer, secondary consumer, tertiary consumer or apex predator, and decomposer.

Date: Thursday, January 16th, 2025.

Key Num

Topic: Homework

Write and draw your favorite part of the story “The Story of Chocolate”.

Date:

Key Num

Topic:

Activities

Date: Monday, January 13th, 2025.

Key Num

Topic: Vocabulary 4

Write vocabulary 4.

1. century
2. document
3. explorer
4. civilization
5. historical site
6. preserve
7. thousand
8. mosaic
9. bean
10. pod
11. telescope
12. orbited
13. geocentric
14. heliocentric
15. billions

Date: Monday, January 13th, 2025.

Key Num

Topic: Activity 4

Match the words with the correct sentence.

1. century

2. document

3. thousand

4. bean

5. pod

a) a seed of some plants, especially coffee or cacao plants.

b) a time period of 100
years.

c) a paper with information on it.

d) a part of some plants
that has the seeds.

e) 1,000

Date: Tuesday, January 14th, 2025

Key Num

Topic: Present Perfect questions with How long.

We use How long and the present perfect to ask questions about something that started in the past and is still happening.

We use for and since to answer How long ...? questions.

After for, we use a period of time.

•How long has chocolate existed? For 4,00 years.

After since, we use a date or a particular point in time.

•How long have we had chocolate bars? Since the 1850s.

Date: Tuesday, January 14th, 2025

Key Num

Topic: Activity 1

Circle the correct answers.

a) How long have you had your bike?

For/ Since my birthday.

b) How long has the World Wide Web existed?

For/ Since around 30 years.

c) How long have we been at school today?

For/ Since 8:30 this morning.

d) How long has your mom worked at the museum?

For/ Since three weeks.

e) How long have people used cinnamon in cooking?

For/ Since thousands of years!

Date: Tuesday, January 14th, 2025

Key Num

Topic: Activity 2

Complete with For or Since.

a. How long have your parents been married?

_____ 15 years.

b. How long has Grandpa lived in Spain?

_____ 1970.

c. How long have we had our new car? _____

two weeks.

d. How long has that building existed? _____

thousands of years.

e. How long have I known my best friend?

_____ our first day at school.

Date: Wednesday, January 17th, 2025.

Key Num

Topic: What are food chains and food webs?

Read the page 50 from your Science book and find the next definitions.

food chain producer consumer predator omnivore

Date: Wednesday, January 17th, 2025.

Key Num

Topic: Activity

carnivores

prey

decomposers

plant

1. When living things die, they become food for organisms called _____.
2. The Venus flytrap is a carnivorous _____ that traps and eats insects.
3. The animals that predators eat are known as _____.
4. _____ eat only meat.

Date: Thursday, January 16th, 2025.

Key Num

Topic: The Story of Chocolate

Read the story “The Story of Chocolate” and answer the activity (page 97, 98 and 99)

The Story of Chocolate

Chocolate cake, chocolate ice cream, chocolate cookies, chocolate bars... Everybody loves delicious chocolate. But how long has chocolate existed? We know that people drank hot chocolate 4,000 years ago in North America! The evidence? Well, one found pieces of dried chocolate in cups in ancient tombs in southern Mexico. Now that's really old chocolate!

What Do You Need To Make Chocolate?
The essential ingredient in chocolate is the cacao bean. These beans come from trees that grow on the cocoa tree. To make chocolate, you need cacao beans, sugar, cocoa butter, and milk. Sometimes people add vanilla, chili, honey—or even pepper to make it spicy! What's your favorite flavor?

Chocolate in History
The Mayans
Drinking chocolate was an important part of the culture of the Mayan people in Mexico. Cacao beans were used in religious ceremonies. At Mayan weddings, the bride and groom gave each other a gift of cacao beans. The beans were so important that they were used instead of money. With her beans, you could buy a statue! Archaeologists have even found fake cacao beans made from clay. That means people tried to trick others by buying things with the clay beans!
Only rich and important people drank chocolate because the beans were very valuable.

The Aztecs
After the Mayans, the Aztec people in Mexico also started drinking chocolate. Sometimes they drank it cold, too. They didn't add any sugar, so it tasted bitter. Then, the Spanish arrived in Mexico in the sixteenth century. They tried the drink but didn't like it. Historians know this because the Spanish invaders wrote letters and diaries about their experiences.

Key Words 2
bean, food, cocoa tree, vanilla, cinnamon, chili, bitter

97

The Story of Chocolate

Chocolate Travels to Europe
One time, the Spanish first adding sugar to the chocolate drink. Meanwhile, people in Europe started drinking chocolate, too. The Spanish brought cacao beans back in ships from the Americas. At first, people thought chocolate was like medicine! People believed that chocolate helped with pain, fevers, and stomachaches. What do you think?
But in fact, it was the first time people in Europe had tried coffee. Coffee is chemical in chocolate, coffee, and tea which affects our brains, it makes us feel more awake. Too much caffeine makes it hard to sleep.
Drinking chocolate became popular all over Europe. King Louis XIV in France drank chocolate at the palace. Chocolate became very fashionable. In 1657, a chocolate house opened in London. Men went there to chat and taste the delicious new drink. Soon, there were chocolate houses everywhere.

Chocolate Facts

- Cacao beans were used as currency in parts of Latin America until the 1800s. Yummy money!
- Two countries are very famous for their chocolates: Belgium and Switzerland.
- A person who makes chocolate is called a chocolatier.

Chocolate Around the World
How long have we had chocolate bars? For about 170 years. The first solid chocolate bar was made in England in the 1850s. Historians study advertisements to learn more about the history of chocolate.
Today, people eat lots of chocolate. About 50 kilos of chocolate is eaten in the US. A every second there's a lot of chocolate! To make enough beans, cacao trees were planted in warm regions near the equator in Asia, South America, and Africa. About 70% of all the cacao we use today is grown in Africa, not North America.

Think
Have you ever used play money for currency in a game? Do you think cacao beans make a good currency? Why or why not?

98

Explore the Text

1 Mark ✓ the main theme of the text.

- a recipes for using chocolate to make cakes and desserts
- b the history of chocolate
- c how chocolate is made
- d the history of the best chocolate stores

2 Read and number the events in order.

- a The first solid chocolate bar was made in England.
- b When the Spanish arrived in Mexico, they tasted chocolate for the first time.
- c The Mayan people drank chocolate. They used cacao beans in religious ceremonies and even as currency.
- d People in Europe began drinking chocolate. They added sugar to change the taste. Chocolate became very fashionable and special cafes called chocolate houses opened.
- e Cacao beans traveled to Europe with the Spanish explorers.

3 Key Words Find the words in the article and circle them. Then, match them to their definitions.

- 1 fake
- 2 flavor
- 3 currency
- 4 fashionable
- a money
- b not real, false
- c very popular; often used to describe clothes
- d the taste of something

4 Why do we study history at school?

99