Grammar in Context

1 Read the sentences and do the tasks.

City dwellers will be living in eco-homes. Will we be traveling in solar-powered cars one day?

a Do these sentences refer to the present, past, or future?
 b Circle in blue the future form of the verb to be. Circle in green the verbs which end in -ing.

Grammar: Future Progressive

We use the future progressive to describe actions that will be taking place at a time in the future. We use will be and the present participle of the verb.
 City dwellers will be living in eco-homes.
 Will we be traveling in solar-powered cars one day?

2 Complete the lines from the song with verbs in the future progressive. Then, listen and check.

When I get home this afternoon,
 My family _____ (do) different things.
 My dad _____ (paint) the kitchen.
 My mom _____ (write) her talk.
 Mae _____ (do) her homework.
 Sam _____ (learn) to walk.
 And at 5:00, I _____ (read) my book!

Time to Talk!
 Would you like to be able to predict the future? What would you most like to find out and why?

3 What will be happening when you get home this afternoon? Complete the sentences with predictions. Then, check your answers at home!

a _____ will be _____ b _____ will be _____ c _____ will be _____

Spelling Patterns and Word Study

5A

1 Listen and repeat the words. What sound do the highlighted letters at the end of each word make?

renewable enjoyable possible terrible

2 Look at the words again. Which ones are still words if you take off their endings?

Spelling Tip: -able, -ible
 The letters able and ible both make the sound /əbəl/ when they are used at the end of a word:
renewable sustainable possible terrible
 If the rest of the word is still a real word, the spelling is usually able: renewable. If not, the spelling might be ible: possible.

3 Guess the spelling at the end of these words. Copy and complete the chart. Then, listen and check.

ed _____ sustain _____ vis _____ horr _____
 drink _____ break _____ aud _____ laugh _____

-able	-ible

4 Read the riddle. Complete the words with the correct spelling patterns. Then, listen and check. Can you solve the riddle?

It's renew _____ and sustain _____.
 It's vis _____ and aud _____ when it's moving. It isn't ed _____, but it's drink _____. It's poss _____ to swim in it, which is usually enjoy _____.
 but horr _____ when it's cold!
