Topic: Story

There once was a girl
Who was smart and
But one day in the forest
She forgot mother's rule
She was a curious girl
So when a mean wolf
"Where are you going
"To my grandmother"
"Ah, that's a pity, why
"That's a great idea. I
They said their goodbyes
It would get there first
But when it arrived, it
Gran had left early for
It searched through the
Then jumped into bed

Think
Is the main character different in the two

Soon Riding Hood came and knocked on the door.
"Come in," said the wolf, just like Gran had before.
"What's that smell? Are you all right?"
She flung open the shutters and let in the light.
She stared at her Gran, and what a surprise!
She was hairy and smelly and had grown in size.
Hood realized at once that things weren't right.
So, following her instincts, she quickly took flight.

The wolf had to act and leapt straight at her throat,
But its teeth got all tangled and stuck in her coat.
Leaving her cape, she escaped from the room
And bumped into Gran, who was returning at noon.

"What on earth is the matter?" exclaimed her Gran.
"There's a wolf in your house with a terrible plan!"
As the villain appeared from the room at the back,
Gran spread open her arms, and it jumped straight in a sack.

She tied it up quickly and flung it over her shoulder.
"Did you really think you'd survive someone older?"
She carried the sack to the well and let go.
And that's how Gran defeated their foe.

Think
Do you think Gran and Riding
Hood should have thrown the wolf down the well? What could they have done instead?
